Reading : SERGEY BRIN

Sergey Brin is a computer scientist who created Google with Larry Page. The two became billionaires as Google developed into the world's most popular search engine and a media giant.

Who Is Sergey Brin?

Sergey Brin is a computer scientist and entrepreneur. He met Larry Page at Stanford University, and the two created a search engine that sorted web pages based on popularity. Google became the most popular search engine in the world after launching in 1998, and its overwhelming success turned the co-founders into billionaires. Brin and Page later became president and CEO of Google's parent company, Alphabet, before they stepped down from their roles in December 2019.

Early Life

Sergey Mikhaylovich Brin was born on August 21, 1973, in Moscow, Russia. He was the son of a Soviet mathematician economist. Brin and his family emigrated to the United States to escape Jewish persecution in 1979. After receiving his degree in mathematics and computer science from the University of Maryland at College Park, Brin entered Stanford University, where he met Larry Page. Both students were completing doctorates in computer science. They went on to create Google...but that's another story.

Personal Life

In 2003, Brin married 23andMe co-founder Anne Wojcicki, with whom he had two children. However, they separated in 2013 and finally divorced in 2015 after Brin had an affair with Google Glass marketing manager Amanda Rosenberg.

Brin married lawyer and entrepreneur Nicole Shanahan in 2018. The two also had a daughter late that year, though news of their union and growing family wasn't publicly revealed until several months later.
